Purpose: To provide physicians, clinicians and other health care providers the knowledge and tools necessary to discuss and implement palliative care to patients with terminal disease.

Objectives: After attending the conference, participants should be able to:

- Define palliative care;
- Identify moral and ethical dilemmas facing clinicians who provide end-of-life care;
- Practice state of the art pain and symptom management for patients with advanced disease;
- Demonstrate effective communication with patients in the advanced stages of cancer or debilitating disease and provide quality end-of-life care in primary care and acute care settings;
- Exhibit heightened awareness of medical, legal and spiritual issues facing patients and families involved in the care of advanced disease;
- Describe resources available to the patient.

Faculty Disclosure: Cape Fear Valley Health System adheres to the Essential Areas and Policies of the North Carolina Medical Society (NCMS) and the Accreditation Council on Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) regarding industry support of continuing medical education. Disclosure of faculty/planning committee members and commercial relationships will be made known at the activity. Speakers are also expected to openly disclose inclusion of discussion of any off-label, experimental, or investigational use of drugs or devices in their presentations.

CME Accreditation: Cape Fear Valley Health System designates this live activity for a maximum of 6.5 AMA PRA Category 1 Credit(s)[™].

Physicians should only claim credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

CEU: Southern Regional AHEC will award 0.6CEUs to each person that attends 100% of the program.

Coordination: The CME activity is coordinated through Physician Education of Cape Fear Valley Health System, Southern Regional AHEC Continuing Education and the Duke AHEC Program.
