NORTH CAROLINA SOCIETY OF EYE PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS 2014 ANNUAL MEETING

September 12-13, 2014 • Charlotte Marriott City Center • Charlotte, NC

This continuing medical education activity is jointly provided by the North Carolina Society of Eye Physicians and Surgeons and Southern Regional Area Health Education Center

2014 ANNUAL MEETING

ACTIVITY DESCRIPTION AND TARGET AUDIENCE

The target audience for this meeting includes ophthalmologists in private practice and in academic medicine, residents, fellows, and students, physician assistants, and nursing staff. This educational activity will update practitioners on the latest medical knowledge available from medical literature, clinical experience and research. This year's meeting will cover many areas of change, and it will also focus on recognizing and managing situations involving increased risk.

EDUCATIONAL OBJECTIVES

At the conclusion of this educational activity, participants should be able to:

- Achieve faster diagnosis and improved outcomes in patients with retinal artery occlusions.
- Assess results of specialized testing for early detection of Plaquenil toxicity and define how to reduce the risk of this retinopathy developing.
- Recognize specific areas of vulnerability within medical practices, and key indicators theft may be occurring.
- Employ specific skills and techniques to interact with unhappy patients.
- Recognize features of OCT results that aid in detection of glaucoma, and in determining glaucoma progression.
- Assess the potential benefits of Femtosecond Laser Assisted Cataract surgery and prepare for potential problems that may occur in transition.
- Initiate treatment plans for infectious keratitis, recognize the signs and symptoms of atypical keratitis, and examine the newest topical therapeutic options available for the treatment of infectious keratitis, and when to use them.
- Recognize Idiopathic Intracranial Hypertension (IIT), manage the evaluation and follow-up of patients with this diagnosis, and select treatment options for this condition.
- Recognize orbital cellulitis in pediatric patients, realize the changing microbial environment especially in this era of evolving resistances, and discern how best to analyze the data and treat these patients.
- Recognize various eyelid lesions and identify features that suggest malignancy and the need for surgical treatment.
- Employ self-management techniques to help avoid burn-out and to restore energy, satisfaction, and balance to physicians' personal and professional lives.

CREDIT STATEMENT

The Southern Regional AHEC designates this live activity for a maximum of 9.0 AMA PRA Category 1 credits™. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

ACCREDITATION

This activity has been planned and implemented in accordance with the Essentials and Standards of the North Carolina Medical Society through the joint providership of the Southern Regional AHEC and the North Carolina Society of Eye Physicians and Surgeons. The Southern Regional AHEC is accredited by the NCMS to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

ADDITIONAL CREDIT

Other health professionals will receive Southern Regional AHEC CEU and/or contact hours and a certificate of attendance from an AMA PRA Category 1™ activity. These certificates are accepted by the NC boards for physician assistants, nurse practitioners, and nurses. License requirements are subject to change. Southern Regional AHEC recommends that participants contact their licensing boards with specific questions. Southern Regional AHEC will provide .9 Continuing Education Units (9.0 contact hours) to participants upon the completion of this activity.

DISCLOSURE STATEMENT

The Southern Regional AHEC adheres to ACCME Essential Areas and Policies regarding industry support of continuing medical education. Disclosure of faculty/planning committee members and commercial relationships will be made known at the activity. Speakers are also expected to openly disclose a discussion of any off-label, experimental, or investigational use of drugs or devices in their presentations.

2014 ANNUAL MEETING

MEETING HIGHLIGHTS

Program Chair Sara Stoneburner, MD has assembled an outstanding faculty who will address current topics of interest. Friday opens with two important presentations providing strategies to help physicians mitigate risk while also enhancing patient care. The welcome reception is an opportunity to visit our vendors, renew acquaintances and meet new colleagues. The dinner program, geared specifically to the practicing ophthalmologist, reviews risks to personal and professional happiness and provides techniques to reduce stress and prevent burn-out, with the goal of restoring work-life balance and re-energizing the physician for better patient care and personal satisfaction. The clinical presentations take place on Saturday, along with the annual NCSEPS Business Meeting and legislative advocacy update. The attire is business casual for the meeting and social functions.

MEETING REGISTRATION

The registration fee is $225 for member physicians, $325 for non-member physicians, $100 for emeritus/retired physicians, $100 for PA/NP in member practice, and $200 for PA/NP in non-member practice. Residents and medical students may attend free of charge. Registration fees include the meeting sessions, the Friday evening reception and dinner for the participant, continental breakfast, breaks and lunch on Saturday. You may register securely online at <https://www.123signup.com/event?id=ygyfk>, or complete the form in this brochure and return it via fax or mail prior to August 15. After August 15, registration fees will increase.

DEADLINE / REGISTRATION CANCELLATION

Please note that refunds of registration fees will not be made after Friday, September 5. Refunds, less $25, will be made for cancellations received prior to that date.
