Call for Poster Abstract Submissions

Submission deadline: March 1, 2022

Dear North Carolina Ob/Gyn Physicians,

You are invited to submit a poster abstract to the NC Ob/Gyn Society Annual Meeting. The Annual Meeting will be held over the weekend of April 6-8, 2022, at the Kiawah Island Resort in Kiawah Island, SC. We hope you will plan to attend! (Registration for the meeting will open soon.) The Executive Committee has committed to engaging a broader audience in the meeting including physicians, midwives, advanced practice providers and our learners in Obstetrics and Gynecology. Our goal is to provide a stimulating meeting and to promote dialogue pertaining to the health care of women in North Carolina.

This year, in addition to our resident oral presentations, we are adding a poster session to facilitate the exchange of ideas between providers and medical communities. Abstracts can be from original research, case reports, Safety projects and Quality Improvement projects. An NC Ob/Gyn Society member must be part of the authorship. Preference will be given to projects involving learners, trainees and those involving inter-professional activities. Abstracts may be presented at other venues or in process for publication. Because we have limited space in our exhibition area, we request a limit of two abstract submissions per author.

Abstract submissions are due March 1, 2022 and notification will be made of acceptance on March 7, 2022. Please submit abstracts to Megan Eberle (meberle@ncmedsoc.org) by email as an attached Word document. For further questions regarding the poster session, please contact me, Amy Bryant via email at amy\_bryant@med.unc.edu.

Please see the Abstract Submission Requirements and Information, and share this request for abstract submissions with residents, fellows,
